

Department of History and Literature

REFLECTIONS FROM A MIRROR

a study of

Lou Andreas-Salomé's friendships

with

Nietzsche and Rilke

and how the works of these authors

are illuminated

by her writings

Cambridge, Massachusetts
March 1, 1949

Ernst J. Meyer

Table of Contents

	Page
Preface
Introduction	1
Lou Andreas-Salomé's friendship with Nietzsche
Lou Salomé's background: problems of childhood	4
The history of a summer's idyll and its aftermath	8
Climax and anticlimax: Nietzsche's exuberance and despair.	15
Meanings of "influence"	25
Intellectual kinship: Nietzsche, Lou Salomé, and Zarathustra	28
The critical writings and fiction of Lou Andreas-Salomé
Echoes from Nietzsche: Im Kampf um Gott	40
Lou Andreas-Salomé's interpretation of Russia	44
Scandinavian literature: Strindberg, Henningsen, Ibsen.	47
Hauptmann: Hanneles Himmelfahrt	50
Lou Andreas-Salomé's theory of art	53
Theology, psychology, and life	58
Fiction: short stories and novels	64
Lou Andreas-Salomé's friendship with Rilke
Rilke's background: the loneliness of youth	68
Wolfrethshausen: a turning point, summer 1897	72
Berlin: Die frühen Gedichte (autumn 1897)	77
Rilke's journeys to Russia	81
Das Stundenbuch : "Gelegt in die Hände von Lou"	88
The search after new solutions: Malte Laurids Briggs , psychoanalysis	96
Duino Elegies	103
In conclusion: a frame of reference	107
Notes and bibliography	